EFFORTS TO RECOVER BODIES OF DROWNED CORRIGAN BOYS.

Local Authorities Take the Matter Up and Family of the Boys Enter a Bitter Complaint.

ONE REWARD HAS BEEN OFFERED

By the Order of Moore and Burgess Solson Will Do All in His Power to Recover the Bodies—No Doubt But the Boys Were Drowned.

As yet the bodies of Vincent and Maurice Corrigan, the little sons of Mrs. Catherine Corrigan of Cummings avenue, have not been recovered. There is now no question but that the boys were drowned, for when last seen they were headed for the river. All the clothes they possessed, except those found at the river bank, are at home, which disposes of the theory that they might have left the clothes on the bank as a blind and then ran off.

The searchers, which have been confined to friends of the family, are trying of their search. This morning Burgess A. D. Solson issued a request that volunteers join in the quest for the missing bodies. He also stated that if any one could be secured to dive for the bodies, either with a regular diving suit or not, he will guarantee the charges.

A reward of $25 has been issued by the Loyal Order of the Moose through J. H. Risbeck and M. D. L. Brooks. This will be paid to the person finding the bodies.

There is some hard feeling on the part of the boys' family because the borough has as yet taken no steps to assist in the search, or offer any reward for the recovery of the bodies. The case of James Freed, who was drowned several years ago, has been cited, for then a reward of $100 was offered. In this case the reward was not offered by Town Council, but by Rockwell Marietta, personally.

Hearing that an expert diver could be secured in Pittsburgh for $25, Burgess Solson called up the police of that city yesterday, but could receive no satisfactory reply from them. The Burgess is taking an active interest in the matter, exerting all the means within his power to aid in the search.

Miss Katie Corrigan, a sister of the little boys drowned, called The Courier office this morning by telephone and made a bitter complaint that no action had been taken by the local authorities up to this morning or yesterday to recover the bodies of the boys. She stated that the attention of the local Merchants' Association had been called to the matter and said the family felt keenly the seeming indifference to lend assistance to them in their sad affliction. The Corrigans have been long residents of Connellsville. The offense that had been charged against the boys before a local Justice of the Peace was a trivial one, the breaking of a window, which any boy is liable to do in the ordinary pranks of a day's play. The little fellows' sisters and brothers together with their mother feel that a reflection was cast on the boys in the statement that it might have been possible for them to have gone away from Connellsville.

Shortly after noon today Burgess Solson made arrangements to secure the services of an expert diver, who will ship his apparatus here tonight on No. 10 and start work early tomorrow morning. The man charges $25 a day and expenses for himself and two assistants. It is believed that one day will be all required to locate the bodies if they are in the pool. Burgess Solson has personally guaranteed all expenses in connection with the matter, if the bill is not paid by Council.

MISSING GOODS RECOVERED.

Patrick King, Returning From Work Yesterday Evening, Discovers Portion of the Booty Stolen Monday Night.

A large portion of the goods stolen from the Connellsville Machine & Car Supply Company's store and the jewelry shop of Nungate Condell on Monday night has been recovered. It was found under peculiar circumstances. As Patrick King, a machinist, was going home from work last evening he found many of the missing knives, revolvers and jewelry on the hillside above the plant of Boy's Porter & Company.

Knowing of the robbery, King took the stuff to the Connellsville Machine & Car Supply Company's store, and Mr. Condell was notified. He identified all the goods except that taken from the car company's store.

JUNK STEALER

Is Arrested Along Monongahela River by Officers.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 29.—George Stineel has been arrested and lodged in jail for the alleged pilfering of rope, brass and other junk from the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, which has been missing this stuff for some weeks past.

It is believed that Stineel was one of a gang which has been operating among the works along the river.

SENT TO JAIL.

Sad Fate of Verbose Hobo Arrested on a B. & O. Passenger Train.

Wilbert Barber, a Baltimore hobo, was pulled off the Duquesne limited last evening by Special Officer W. T. Bayless in a decidedly intoxicated condition. Barber put up a stiff fight before he was finally locked in a cell, and his face gave evidence of the scrap this morning when he appeared before Burgess Solson.

"That was whisky talking last night, your honor; it wasn't me," he explained this morning.

Barber was given 30 days to jail, although he asked for 60 last night. Andrew Espey was arrested for being drunk, and as his wife is away from home, he will be held 48 hours.

"I've got the key of the house in my pocket," said Andrew, "and if she wants to get in she'll have to get me out."

Harry Best fell off the water wagon yesterday and was locked up. He received a 48 hour sentence without kicking.

Two other drunks got the same sentence.

HELD FOR COURT.

Work Gang Arrested on B. & O. for Sunday Violations Have a Hearing.

A hearing was held before Justice of the Peace D. K. Cameron at Dunbar yesterday in the Sunday law violation cases brought by Sabbatharian J. P. Sharp against a gang of 45 Italian workmen on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near Pechin. All of the men were held for court and gave bail for their appearance, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad furnishing bond. The cases may be tried at the coming term of court.

The hearing at Dunbar yesterday was largely attended, it being held in the Electric Theatre building, the square's office not being large enough. The Baltimore & Ohio Company, it is understood, will fight the cases.

HAD A FIGHT.

Constable Crawford Meets a Bad Foreigner at Brownfield.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 29.—Constable S. H. Crawford had an exciting time at Brownfield last night, when he attempted to arrest Pete Durwak. Pete, it appears, was in a three-card monte game and swiped the pot, which resulted in a row. Pete escaped but was later located by the officer.

It was necessary for Crawford to call for assistance before getting the bracelets on Durwak, who continued to fight until safely landed in the county jail.

CAMP BREAKS UP.

Members of Kill Kato Back After an Enjoyable Outing.

Kamp Kill Kato, at Geist, Md., has broken up and the members with their paraphernalia returned to Connellsville yesterday afternoon. They had a most enjoyable time during the two weeks they were there.

Those who came back yesterday were Oliver Goldsmith, George Herpelt, Burton Swartzwelder, Bert Jones, John Collins, Raymond Shaw and Ralph Hyatt.

ANNUAL DINNER

By Major McCormick in Honor of Anniversary of Return of Company D Given Tonight.

The veterans of old Company D, who fought in the Philippines, will have a big time tonight in Gunningham's hall on Gallatin avenue when they will celebrate the eighth anniversary of the company's return from across the sea. Major L. P. McCormick, who was assistant surgeon of the Tenth Regiment during the Philippine Insurrection is the host, as he has been at all previous celebrations of this event.

A fine feast has been arranged, after which speeches will be made and the soldiers will recite reminiscences of their trip. Major McCormick has given a banquet each year in honor of the event, and reserves the right to do so each year. Anyone who wants to dine the boys of old Company D has to pick another date.

It is just eight years ago today that Connellsville turned out in dress parade to welcome her home coming boys and the occasion is yet green in the memory of those who witnessed the affair. Likewise are Dr. McCormick's former dinners well remembered.

VETERANS HOME

From Trip to Colorado Springs, the Expense of Which Was Paid by General Palmer.

Lyman S. Strickler of East Connellsville and A. W. Hood of West Peach street, survivors of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from Colorado Springs, where for the past week they were royally entertained by their old commander, General W. J. Palmer. Mr. Strickler arrived here this morning on train No. 48, while Mr. Hood will remain in Pittsburgh for a few days. Mr. Strickler was delighted with the trip. While there they were guests at the Antler Hotel, the boarding for the entire party costing $500 per day.

It is estimated that the trip cost General Palmer in the neighborhood of $60,000. Among the many places of interest visited by the soldiers were Cable Winds, Garden of the Gods, owned by General Palmer, Home of the Cliff Dwellers, Cripple Creek, the gold mines and the Port and Smelting Company. Glen Ayr is the name of General Palmer's palace.

STRICKEN OFF.

Three Names Included in Molders' Injunction That Should Not Have Been Mentioned.

The names of three men who were mentioned in the newspaper's of the evening yesterday in the injunction proceeding against the striking molders were stricken off the list today. They are R. K. Stout of the Connellsville Machine & Car Company, and Frank Bowers and James Haines of the Connellsville Manufacturing & Mine Supply Company. It develops that Stout is not a member of the Molders' Union and that furthermore he is really a member of the firm for some time holding a bunch of stock in the Connellsville Machine & Car Company.

Bowers and Haines have never been connected in any way with demonstrations against the molders who wanted to work and in justice to them D. J. Lepley of the Manufacturing & Mine Supply Company this morning corrected the mistake of having their names included in those against whom injunctions are asked.

TAKES A HIKE DOES JIM SCOTT.

He and Rough Looking Companion Beat Chief Rottler in a Foot Race.

SCOTT HAS GOOD CHARACTER.

South Fork Druggist Calls Burgess Solson Over Long Distance Telephone and Says Miner is a Good Fellow in Spite of Eccentric Garb.

James Scott, the Cambria county miner who created such a sensation in police court yesterday morning by appearing in a decidedly elaborate and immaculate garb, including a high silk hat, a snow white necktie and put on leather shoes, gave Chief of Police Rottler a chase this morning. Scott was released yesterday morning, as the police failed to collect any evidence against him, he having been placed in the bastille under suspicion.

Early this morning Chief Rottler detected him in company with a rough looking character, and proceeded to place both under arrest again. He took both to the borough bastille, but while getting out his keys to unlock the big steel doors, the short man broke away, giving Rottler a blow on the head. Scott followed his companion, and both made tracks for the South Side, with the Chief following close behind. They ran several squares, finally outdistancing the officer, who was compelled to give up the chase. This occurred about 6:30 o'clock.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Burgess Solson received a call from South Fork, where Scott resided for some months. Druggist John F. Dalton of that place informed Burgess Solson that Scott has an excellent reputation in his home town and the surrounding country, but is peculiar concerning his dress of dress. This is a whim of his, and the idiosyncrasy frequently gets him into difficulties. When informed of this morning's escapade, Druggist Dalton said it was probably due to drink, as Scott, whose habits are temperate, has no capacity for punishing liquor and a few drinks puts him out of his head.

If the fugitive is arrested it is unlikely that Burgess Solson will impose any sentence other than that Scott leave town at once. Mr. Dalton of South Fork says he was a school mate of Scott, or Joseph L. Stout of town.

STANDARD SUED.

Action Brought for Libel by Lewis Emery, Jr.

A libel suit was filed by Lewis Emery, Jr., through Attorney Woods N. Carr, against the News Standard Publishing Company, O. J. Sturgis and T. S. Gorley, in the Fayette courts. The suit is based on the publication of and comment on statements made by the prohibition candidate, Homer L. Castle.

Emery denies that he was ever guilty of any wrongdoing such as charged by Castle and commented on in the News Standard. The statement specifies that in the issue of the paper of October 16, 1906, comment was made on the Castle statement regarding the test of oil of the Emery Oil Company. On the following day, attention was paid to the utterances of that other prohibition leader, Dr. Silas C. Swallow, and comment on this is also made the subject of the suit.

There are now 110 in the jail, but this, too, is an exceptional number for August.

At the March term of court Hines filed a statement showing $3,377.75 on hand. Excepting to this were Mrs. M. and E. D. Brown were appointed auditors.

After making information against their husbands, charging assault and battery, desertion and non-support and threats to kill, Mrs. Myrtle Matthews and Mrs. Ella Braithway, both of North Pittsburgh street, relented at the hearing last night, withdrew their charges and paid the costs.

The defendants were William Matthews and John T. Braithway. The entire trouble grew out of the row near Shure Tuesday night. The informations were made before Squire Frank Miller.

Mrs. Braithway was a caller at The Courier office this morning and she was pretty emphatic in denying the statements made by William Matthews in police court yesterday morning. She says just the opposite of what Matthews said is the true condition and state of affairs.

SOLDIERS HAD SOME VISITORS

Who Helped Entertain Them at Their Annual Gathering—Delegates Who Were Elected to the Coming Convention at Gettysburg.

The basket picnic held at the Fairview Farm yesterday by the war veterans and their friends was a very enjoyable affair. The weather was fine, the attendance large, the tables laden with abundant and the amusements varied and interesting. After the noon time lunch had been served all present assembled in front of the house and Officer of the Day J. J. Barnhart announced the opening of the gathering. America was then sung by the audience. Brown and Whiteley leading. Roy Stewart invoked the divine blessing. Dr. G. W. Gallagher was then called on for the address of welcome, which he delivered in a masterly manner. He spoke of many things pertaining to the old veterans and our country, and, in speaking of Abraham Lincoln, stated that he was a Christian, that while he did not adhere to any particular sect or denomination, that he daily read the Scriptures and prayed God to direct and guide him, and that his prayers were answered.

J. R. Baisley in his response said there were many subjects on an occasion of this kind that might be discussed, but he would refrain from saying anything further than to thank the owners of the beautiful grounds for their kindness in inviting the veterans and their friends to use them for their annual outings. He also referred to what the former speaker had said about Lincoln's Christianity and remarked that if the people of today would read the Scripture and pray God to forgive them their sins as they forgive the sins of others that there would be less persecuting and prosecuting of their fellow men. Rev. W. R. Christian was called upon and added color to the entertainment. His address was one of the best ever heard in this section on the race question.

Dr. G. W. Newcomer made an able address and among other things told how he and Squire Vance captured Stanley Morgan and thereby saved the North from devastation. Captain Morgan in his talk said while the boys behind the gun was all right during the war that if it had not been for the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts behind the boys with their prayers our cause would have been lost. Miss Marie Benford recited two pieces that very much interested the audience and Joe Brown and Charley Whiteley sang the accompaniment.

After the speaking was over the veterans formed in company and marched out in the clover field where Photographer George Porter took their picture. The members of Encampment 68, U. V. L., held a meeting on the ground and elected W. P. Clark and J. K. Brown delegates to the National Encampment to be held at Gettysburg next month. I. C. Shaw and Charles Whiteley were selected as alternates. About 5 o'clock the remnants from the noon lunch were brought out and disposed of, and everybody left for their homes, satisfied that they had been well entertained.

The 67 Club Picnic. The 67 Club are holding their picnic this afternoon at Jim McGloin's farm in Dunbar township. A big crowd is expected.

Work on the structure will be started at once and it is to be completed next February. The West Penn hopes to have all its force in the new building by March 1.

VILLAGE TURNS OUT.

Oyster Bay Puts on Airs When Swedish Prince Visits the President.

GREETED BY HIS COUNTRYMEN

After Substantial Meal With Him Returns to New York, Where He Feeds His Retainers and Entertainers—Sees Broadway by Night.

New York, Aug. 25.—A luncheon with President Roosevelt, an informal dinner at the Hotel Astor, and a view of Broadway were the highlights of the visit to New York of Prince Wilhelm of Sweden. Incidental to almost all of these events was a hearty greeting from hundreds of Swedes who gathered everywhere to welcome to their adopted country the great-grandson of Marshal Bernadotte, one of Napoleon's famous generals.

From a round of entertainments at Newport and several Massachusetts cities, Prince Wilhelm reached New York by rail, accompanied by the Swedish minister to the United States, Herman L. F. Lagercrantz, and Captain Klercher, the prince's aid. At the Grand Central station the party was met by Acting Swedish Consul Magnus Claeholm, who extended the formal welcome of the Swedish residents of New York.

At the Hotel Astor the prince was taken in charge by Huntington Wilson, third assistant secretary of state, who had been detailed by the president to escort the visitor to Oyster Bay.

Population at the Depot.

A large portion of the population of Oyster Bay was at the station when the prince arrived, and the little Long Island village was gay with flags, prominent among them being the colors of Sweden. The party was driven immediately to Sagamore Hill, where the president was awaiting them.

The luncheon served was an elaborate one. Besides Prince Wilhelm the guests were Captain Lindberg, of the Swedish cruiser Egla, on which the prince voyaged to America; Secretary of the Treasury Cordell Hull; John B. Jackson, minister to Persia; Louis B. C. Butler, U. S. N. commander of the Mayflower, the president's yacht; and Mrs. Butler and Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the United States army.

The luncheon while elaborate was entirely informal and the president and the prince chatted on current topics until they settled down to a discussion of the training of naval officers, a subject in which both are particularly interested.

The party left Sagamore Hill in time to catch a train for New York shortly before 4 o'clock.

The party reached the Hotel Astor shortly after 5 o'clock and Prince Wilhelm retired immediately to his room for the purpose of gaining a little rest, which the exertions of the past few days made necessary.

Prince Gives Dinner.

At 7 o'clock Prince Wilhelm gave an informal dinner in the orange dining room of the hotel, at which he entertained the Swedish minister and Mme. Lagercrantz, Huntington Wilson, and John B. Jackson, minister to Persia, who will act as the prince's escort during his visit; Captain Lindberg of the Egla; Captain Klercher, A. Ekenren, secretary of the Swedish legation at Washington, and Acting Consul Claeholm.

Following the dinner the members of the party left the hotel in three large automobiles for the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Breen for a sightseeing trip around the city.

It was announced that the prince would spend most of today in his apartments and that he would attempt to catch up with a great mass of accumulated correspondence. In the evening he will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Breen.

Tomorrow a formal banquet will be tendered the prince at the Hotel Astor and Saturday will be spent in sightseeing in and about New York.

WOMAN HIS DOWNFALL

Runyan in Court Tells Why He Stole $100,000 From Bank.

New York, Aug. 25.—Chester B. Runyan, the former paying teller who stole nearly $100,000 in cash from the Windsor Trust company last June, told in the court of general sessions the story of his downfall.

He charged that Laura A. Carter, now on trial charged with receiving some of the money which she knew to have been stolen, was the temptress who led him astray. Runyan testified that he met Mrs. Carter on the street by chance and visited her at her home several times. During those visits he told her that he had stolen several thousand dollars from the bank where he was employed. One evening when they were talking about his case Mrs. Carter said: "You're in bad now. Why don't you take some more and have enough for yourself?"

A few days later he crammed nearly $100,000 into a suitcase and fled.

He was delivered over to the police a week later by Mrs. Carter. He had spent all the time between his disappearance from the bank and his arrest in her home. Mrs. Carter is charged with having criminally obtained several thousand dollars of the money Runyan stole. Twenty-five thousand dollars of the money Runyan stole has never been found. The remainder has been restored to the company.

He was closely followed by Sheriff Frick. Jackson stole along a public road for half a mile and disappeared. So suddenly that a protracted search failed to supply the slightest clue.

FEAST FOR BEGGARS.

Russian Tramp King Emulated Chicago's Hobo Banquet.

JUBILEE HELD IN A CEMETERY

Sumptuous Repast Laid on Gravestones in St. Petersburg—Plenty to Drink, but No Drunkenness or Uncomely Noises—Cost Estimated at $300.

From faroff Chicago there came to St. Petersburg, the capital of all the Russias, the tale of the great banquet to American tramps and beggars, writes a St. Petersburg correspondent of the New York Press. No doubt the gayety and magnificence of Dr. Rottman's spread to hobo was justly celebrated when the story reached the ears of Russian beggars. Yet it made an impression, and especially on Ivan Stepanoff, the king of Russian beggars. Ivan the other day celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of his rule. This king of the underworld was most anxious to celebrate the event in an up to date manner, and as the next he had of the Chicago story, he decided that he would follow suit and give a gorgeous banquet.

Those familiar with Russia and Russian life know that one of the features of the land is the army of beggars. There is no charity organization society to bother, and the police are friendly, so friendly, in fact, that there is a probability that the beggars either pay a goodly percentage or buy outright from the police their money and stand in the streets of the cities.

Ivan Stepanoff is a man of sixty-a tall, well built man with white hair and beard, having more the appearance of a well to do artisan or minor official than a beggar. Yet he has pulled his "trade" for a good thirty-five years and always at the same stand, the largest and most fashionable cemetery of St. Petersburg, situated in the suburb of Kolomoia. Here he is one of the most noted figures, dressed in picturesque rags. He has a soft voice, an engaging manner, and with visitors and sightseers as well as members he is a success in collecting alms for himself, his "poor" wife and "starving" children.

As a matter of fact, which the police, but not the public, is aware of, his wife wears valuable furs and diamonds; one of his daughters is married to a merchant who, with her received a large "dot" and he has some students at the law, and many shortly gain well paid positions in the official service.

The police, but not the public, also know that the very handsome villa nestled by a large and well kept garden situated in the Kolomoia suburb is Stepanoff's home and that he built it himself. The residence is a luxurious one, and the beggar has his servants and his trotters just as if he were a noble or a wealthy merchant.

So much for the king of beggars. For his anniversary he decided to follow the idea of the Chicago banquet, yet even on a grander scale. He issued invitations to be sent broadcast to the beggars, tramps and miscellaneous hobo of St. Petersburg. The banquet hall was the cemetery, the home of his exploits.

The police, alarmed to say, rushed no objection to the police in the graveyard. They allowed the beggars' wagons to unload huge piles of eatables and great baskets filled to the brim with bottles of strong vodka. They allowed the guests the poorest neighborhood in the city to gather to the number of a round thousand, and, furthermore, they raised no objections to the graves and graveyards being used as a kitchen. On each grave was laid a sumptuous repast, with the proper complement of liquid refreshment. A dozen or more of the strange guests gathered round each grave, depending on its size, and there feasted. Ivan Stepanoff presided at one of the central graves, a great, multi-story, the family vault of a prince. During the feast he also visited and drank his toast at others of the tomb.

This strange scene continued from noon through the evening until came the time for the cemetery to be closed for the night. There was no unseemly noise. Each party of junkies had his own mercurial; but, although the vodka was plentiful, there were no drunkenness and no rowdies in the crowd.

Ivan Stepanoff announced early in the day with much tact that in view of the festivities he would abstain from unprofitable stunts, for alms, for that day, the first day in thirty-five years in which he had not attended to his business.

Toward closing time Stepanoff marshaled his guests in small parties and conducted them to the gates. From there they vanished to their holes.

It is estimated that a celebration cost the king of beggars fully $300. But he is playing his trade more vigorously than ever and may soon make up this.

Although this is the first beggar's banquet in Russia, there are now likely to be others. Chicago has evidently sowed a seed which promises to be fruitful.

Solariums Now the Fad.

"It is quite a fad now," said an architect to a correspondent of the New York Press, "to build solariums to the private houses, and they are very beautiful things, too—conservatories at the top of the house, flowers all around, all included in glass, so you can sit there and sun yourself through the bright days of winter. Hospitals have had solariums for a long time, and some of the hotels, but I am only lately that they have become a fad among the wealthy."

TATE NOT PAID.

Popular Catcher Treated Shabbily in Regard to His Salary.

Hatty Tate, the popular catcher of the Connellsville team, was treated shabbily in the matter of payment of his salary when the other members of the team were paid. Tate joined the Connellsville team when it started on its season record of winning 13 straight games, taking five of them from Butler. He caught a majority of the catches in all of them, while Griffin was laid up with a sore finger. His hitting was a number of games and there was life in the team all the time Tate was with them.

When the money was raised some time ago and the players were paid off to August 15, Tate was not given a cent of salary. The money is justly due him and he can collect it by appeal to the National Association.

HOSTLER OF LION ARRESTED

Mrs. Huckle Dies of Injuries Inflicted by Savage Beast.

Pittsburg, Aug. 25.—Charged with being a witness to murder Clarence Chappelle, also known as "Red" and employed with the Winchester national rifle show, was committed to jail following the death of Mrs. Anna A. Huckle, who was severely mangled by a great Sultan lion at Luna park.

Mrs. Huckle died at the Homeopathic hospital, heart failure expedited by the shock and injuries causing her death.

Deputy Coroner Laidley, who investigated the case, took Chappelle into custody. During his investigation he learned that the boy carelessly left the door open and made no attempt to close it. As the animals had not been fed they were in an angry mood. Deputy Laidley found three lions had been driven into the arena while their cages were being cleaned and a door left open. Before driving the animals from the next set of cages into those already cleaned the lion left its quarters and wandered out into the auditorium.

The boy, discovering the lion's absence, was so badly frightened he ran screaming for aid.

WON A GAME.

Connellsville Took One From Clarksville Yesterday and Scottsdale and Fairmont Divided Honors.

Connellsville beat Clarksville at Clarksville yesterday 5 to 2. Scottsdale split a double-header, returning to the Connellsville team after losing the first game, 6 to 1, in the second 6 to 5. Johnson has not lost a game on the home grounds this season, while on visiting grounds he has been hit hard. In Butler, for instance, he has not won a game. Connellsville won yesterday in the third inning when they batted out enough hits to score four runs. Overman was back on the mound again and the former Zanesville boy seems to be growing stronger with his work every other day. Walsh and Hart had the only errors in the game for Connellsville, each dropping a fly ball after hard runs.

Clarksville got but four hits off Overman. Wilson, a new pitcher, was on the staff for Clarksville and Connellsville beat him for 18 to 10. Williamson played a clever game at third, catching five hard chances and planting two pretty singles in the outfield. Offense was on hand with his bat as he hit in every game that has been played at Clarksville. Tommy has had a two-bagger to his credit, and in the five games played to date he has had nine hits, one of which was a home run. Blum also has been hitting hard and Griffin has been catching a fine game.

The first game at Fairmont yesterday was tied through all the way. Well, scoring the once run in the sixth inning. Scottsdale had only three hits on McFarlin and Fairmont collected but four off Overman. In the second game, Overman was hit hard, Fairmont getting 11 hits, while Johnson allowed Scottsdale seven.

USEX DEFEATED.

Boys Porter Beat Independents in the City League.

A game was played in the City League last night on the Clarksville grounds. The boys Porter beat the Uteex independent 5 to 1 in five innings. The game was a nice one, both pitchers performing in the state and keeping the hits scattered.

The latitudes were Snyder and A. Kirk for the Boys Porter team and DeHoff and Rishbauger for the independents.

B. & O. IMPROVEMENTS.

Some Important Ones Being Made in Dunbar Township.

The B. & O. have temporarily discontinued work on the double track immediately north of Mt. Braddock and are working at a stretch of track just south of Peachin station.

They have more than a quarter of a mile track down here but it is not filled up to the level of the present track. It is, however, being elevated daily by the distribution of materials over the ties. A siding leaves the main track near the bridge over Gist run at Peachin, and from this siding the work is done. It will take fully a month and probably more to close up the gap between the track laid north of Mt. Braddock and the present work.

The work at Mt. Braddock is on the west side of the main track and that at Peachin on the east side of the main track, so between the two points a change in main line conditions will be made. North of the Peachin bridge the difficulty in the way is the public road, and it will take some time to adjust matters satisfactorily there. This public road is much used by the public and of course cannot be closed up until a new and satisfactory public road is made in its stead.

Work is also going on north of Dunbar borough, it being the object to complete the double tracking before the advent of cold weather.

The furniture company have already removed two of the four houses north of the overhead trestle between Peachin station and McGee's crossing along the colley line, and are working at the third. As the new house building by Mr. Senior, who occupies the house next the concrete bridge, is nearly ready for occupancy and will not likely be for a month, it is probable the house he occupies will be moved back sufficiently to allow the trolley line to be thrown out toward the creek to get rid of the ugly curve at that point. The trolley road once thrown over room would be left for the public road on west side of trolley track and still leave room for the proposed B. & O. double track. While this would simplify the matter of road construction at McGee's crossing, it would by no means relieve the stress at Peachin.

GALLEY REUNION.

There Were Over 300 Descendants of Old Family at Dickerson Run Gathering Yesterday.

Over 300 descendants of the Galley family were present yesterday at the second annual reunion held on the Galley farm near Dickerson Run.

The affair was a grand and enjoyable event. The guests commenced to arrive as early as 8 o'clock and by noon the large orchard was well filled. The oldest descendant present yesterday was Henry Galley, who is now in his 72nd year.

The morning was spent in renewing old acquaintances and about 1 o'clock an elegant dinner was served. Five tables were arranged under the large trees in the orchard. After spending an hour or more around the festive board the remainder of the afternoon was taken up with an excellent program.

Since the last reunion 20 members of the family have died. The family history was completed yesterday with an exception of a few minor points. The history when completed will be a most interesting one and will contain many interesting facts regarding the descendants which number nine hundred.

NEWCOMER REUNION.

Second Annual Gathering of the Elg Family is Being Held Today at Shady Grove.

The second annual reunion of the descendants of Ulick Newcomer (Neukommor) will be held today at Shady Grove, beginning at 9 o'clock this morning and continuing all day. At least 250 members of the fourth and fifth generations are expected to be present, and it is possible that the number will reach double that figure. The President of the Newcomer organization, as it is known, is William L. Newcomer, and to him is due the fact that the members are at Shady Grove this year for their reunion.

The organization was formed a year ago, to be exact, June 22, 1906, at Wauson, O., where the first reunion was held. At that time 67 descendants of the first Newcomer in America were present. At this gathering William L. Newcomer suggested that the organization be made a permanent one. This idea was eagerly carried out and he was elected the first President, Eliza Newcomer Scott becoming Secretary.

A genealogical history of the family has been compiled and notices have been sent out to every branch of the family. Pennsylvania and Ohio are well represented today, while many other members of the family who have strayed farther afield are here from their homes in western states to renew and make acquaintance with members of the family.

TO INCREASE RATES.

Mexican Government's Action Will Hurt Americans.

Protests have been made to the United States government against the action of the Mexican government in advancing the freight rates on practically all commodities. It being charged that the mining and smelting interests of Americans in that republic have been greatly injured, and in some cases ruined.

Consul W. D. Shaughnessy of Aguascalientes, says in a report to the State Department that the new classification will affect all of the Mexican government's main and branch railroad lines, and it is rumored that when the merger of all the railroads in the republic actually takes place, which is expected in the near future, the rates will again be increased, making the total advance enormous.

"The many mining interests in Mexico, of which a large percentage are American operators and stockholders," continues Shaughnessy, "will suffer to great extent. Those who have heretofore managed to ship the low-grade ores upon a paying basis will be unable under the new classification to transport any except the high grade ores. This will result sooner or later in the necessity of shutting down a great number of the low-grade mines, and will mean the loss of many hundred thousands of dollars per annum to stockholders."

APPEALS GO OVER.

Westmoreland Coal Assessments Still Unsettled.

The Westmoreland county court was only able to hear a part of the appeals of coal operators from the assessments of coal lands by the Commissioners at this term of court. These were of the smaller operators. By agreement it was decided to continue the other appeals docketed until the next term of court. The coal companies have agreed to pay taxes on the present valuations pending the court's decision on the appeals. If the assessments are reduced the excess payment will be returned.

KEPT A SECRET.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Western Pennsylvania.—Fair Thursday; light to fresh north winds becoming east.

Preparing for Fall.

Our buyers are in New York now buying goods for the coming Fall season. Intend to do more business this Fall than ever before—chief reason for this is that we will have the goods here in mail an increased business. Of course a good portion of our stock for this fall was purchased months ago. Some of it such as the Carpets and Rugs and Silks you will find already in stock, but the real exclusive patterns in Silks and Dress Goods will be bought now and we call particular attention to these Silks and Dress Goods we will have here to show you. From any standpoint you wish to consider them, either price or quality or patterns, they will be worth while seeing and whether you wish to buy or not we ask you to come and pass your opinion of them.

Suits That Fit.

You would be astonished if you knew how many of these new suits we have sold already—asked as when we came to look them over—so much so that we sent in a hurry up letter for the balance of our order. Some new ones coming along now almost every day and we would like to have you look them over. It may seem early for you to be choosing your Fall suit, but lots of people are buying now and you might as well buy early and get the use of your suit the entire season. A good many of these suits have coats that can be worn as separate jackets these cool evenings that will be here only too soon. We have headed this article "Suits That Fit," because that's the way a customer described them the other day. She said that somehow they seemed to have something about them that you could always tell them from other suits. We believe you can see this difference just as she would once you see the suits. Then again, there's a price difference—know that we can afford to sell and do sell these on a closer margin of profit than other stores in this vicinity—believe that we are enabled to sell more suits by being satisfied with this smaller profit and also believe that you appreciate it when your store can save you from $2.00 to $5.00 on your Fall Suit. One way for you to verify these statements is to come and see the suits and learn the prices.

IT IS BY

Comparison only, that the true worth of any one shoe over another is determined. We ask you to try the Nettleton shoe and compare its comfort and service with any shoe you may have worn. You will then begin to realize why the Nettleton shoe has so many men who insist on wearing them regularly. The shoes stand for style, quality, comfort and service,—four essentials to good footwear. Try a pair.

LIFE IN THE BUNGALOW.
John M. Rockwell never displayed greater skill in the choice of tenants than in the selection of L. Sylvester Vincent as general superintendent of Social Island. Mr. Vincent proved to be a most capable manager. He formulated a set of rules and enforced them with the strictness of a born executive. Since the discovery of the golden lads in Social Island, Mr. Vincent had an interest worth at least $175,000, that gentleman advanced himself several points in the social and financial plane; but he was too shrewd to be presumptu-

Four hours later he kneaded it again, and it was now a huge light ball, and Mr. Pence was much elated. Two hours later he cut it into small pieces, kneaded it slightly, and put it in the small raised pans and after it had again risen, he placed the pans in the oven. After an hour's baking, Vincent and Mr. Pence took from the oven eight loaves of bread, of which every housewife might well have been proud. The tops were a perfect yellow-brown, and the texture was of that arm but light nature which

John M. Rockwell never displayed greater skill in the choice of beneficiaries than in the selection of L. H. Vincent to be the first president of Social Island. SLAIN AT CROSSING.

Four Aged Persons in Automobile Killed as Result of Misunderstanding.

ALL ARE TERRIBLY CRUSHED

Driver of Car Thought Motorman of Trolley Would Give Him Right of Way — Error Cost Him Life and Three Others.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Dr. George Waldron, a physician of Rochester; Mrs. Catherine Farnsworth of Rochester and Mrs. William Scandling and Mrs. Jane Hobbs, both of Hopewell, were instantly killed in a collision between an automobile in which they were driving and a Rochester & Eastern trolley car near Canandaigua.

Dr. Waldron went to Hopewell with his daughter to visit at the home of William Scandling and had taken the three women, all of whom were more than 65 years of age, for an automobile ride. They were on their way to Rochester crossing to meet another friend of the Scandling family.

Witnesses of the accident say that as the machine approached the trolley tracks it was seen by the motorman. He signalled and Dr. Waldron slowed up. Then, apparently thinking that he could cross before the car reached him, he started on again. It is thought that the automobile did not respond readily to the levers. It was caught on the tracks and the occupants thrown out with great force. The bodies were frightfully crushed.

SIX FATALLY INJURED

Locomotive Is Wrecked and Boiler Explodes With Awful Results.
Elkins, W. Va., Aug. 28.—Six miners will die as the result of burns and internal injuries received in the wreck and explosion of a donkey engine of the Jacksonville Coal and Coke company, about one mile from Emmart station on the Coal & Coke railroad.

The engine with nine cars had left the mine a short way behind when it struck the trestle, was derailed, tipped over and carried trestle, cars and miners with it. The boiler burst when the engine fell, enveloping the miners, who had been riding on a car in the rear of the engine, in clouds of steam.

The injured are: J. F. Maddix, Clarence Lowther, Tony Miller, Melvin Allen, Okay G. Carter, Mike Yandl. They were brought to the Davis Memorial hospital here. Tony Miller died soon after. The condition of the others is hopeless.

GIRLS HURLED FROM CAB

Picked Up by Auto Party They Tell Awful Story of Abuse.
New York, Aug. 28.—One insensible from injuries, the other hysterical and suffering from blows and the effects of a drug, two girls alleged to have been drugged, attacked and then hurled from a cab, were carried into the Eighth street police station at Coney Island, where later one revived sufficiently to tell an awful story of abuse.

They had been picked up unconscious on Ocean boulevard by the members of an automobile party who had seen them thrown out of the carriage, one of the girls falling on her head.

The two girls were Anna Russell, 18 years old, of 225 Dean street, Brooklyn, and Adele Roberts of 310 Dean street.

SAYS HE IS SORRY NOW

Man Who Threw Little Girl in River to Have Mental Examination.
Detroit, Aug. 28.—Albert Stemmen, the bookkeeper who walked into police headquarters and announced that he had thrown his 2-year-old daughter Helen over Belle Isle bridge into the river as a sacrificial atonement for his sins, was examined by Prosecutor Robinson and while again declaring that he committed the act, he was now sorry and that he would not do the same thing again. Prosecutor Robinson has decided to have Stemmen examined in the probate court as to his sanity.

The body of the child was found floating in the river six miles below the bridge from which the father threw her into the water.

Blue and Gray Meet Again.
Charleston, Pa., Aug. 28.—McNeill's Confederate Rangers are participating in the reunion of the famous Ringgold battalion. The two companies were opposed to each other in many engagements, the scenes of which were laid generally along the South Branch valley of the Potomac river, where McNeill's men were recruited. It was this body of men that dashed into Cumberland one night and captured the union general Crook and Kelley. The Ringgold battalion was recruited in West Pennsylvania.

Loses Finger, Kills Himself.
Torro House, Ind., Aug. 28.—George N. Arthur, a prominent musician, age 57, shot himself here. He had suffered for months from injuries received from an X-ray examination to locate a piece of wire in his finger. The finger was burned so badly it had to be amputated, thus destroying his usefulness as a musician.

MUCH ECLAT

Will be Displayed by Masontown September 7 When Street Car Line is Opened.

My, but they are getting swell down in Masontown. The formal opening of the new West Penn extension to the Wallied City will be accomplished with much eclat, as Editor Charles D. Connors, who has the affair in charge, would say. In plain English, and stripped of its high sounding French, the Masontown people are going to have a rattling good time, with lots of pyrotechnics, vocal and otherwise, on both sides and in the middle. Arrangements are being made to have prominent Fayette county delegates deliver addresses. Then the line will be in operation and everybody will take a street car ride.

To Women who can wear a 3 or 3½ Oxford

All Oxfords for Women's wear are included under these two price headings, but the bulk of them are in sizes 3 and 3½. Some few other sizes, but very few. All the tans are gone and we wonder somewhat that the entire collection isn't cleaned up. For it would seem that offering brand new, dependable, stylish footwear at such remarkable reductions would cause a decided furore among the thriftilly inclined. Here's the way they're being sold:

All $3.00 and $3.50 Women's Oxfords are now being sold at $1.50

All $2.00 and $2.50 Women's Oxfords are now being sold at $1.00
